

HR MANAGER - TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT

- $100,000 package
- Entrepreneurial and Dynamic Business
- Award Winning Group

In a little over 5 years this company has grown from a start up venture to now generate revenues in excess of $150 million. Their success to date can be attributed to a young,vibrant Senior Management team, product innovation, a complete commitment to customer satisfaction and a determination to be the very best organisation in its sector.

This growth and anticipated new business initiatives have resulted in this broad based role.

Reporting to the General Manager - Operations this role will focus on implementing effective strategies in training and development, providing advice and support to Line Managers on the recruitment process and ensuring that the induction programme is 'lived' throughout the business.

Candidates will have exceptional communication abilities and strong influencing skills.The ability to interact effectively at all levels and be able to present sound arguments is essential. A service industry and multi-site background would be advantageous but is by no means prerequisite.

This is an exceptional opportunity to join a dynamic and fast moving business.Promotional prospects and career development opportunities are truly outstanding.
